Stores Boarded Up In Port Arthur Area; Warnings Posted

PORT ARTHUR, Texas, Sept. 23—A gulf storm described by the coast guard at Port Arthur as "a full hurricane" with winds of more than 75 miles an hour was bearing down on the Texas coast today.

The storm center was reported to be some 180 miles south of Port Arthur and traveling toward the coast at about eight miles an hour. At this rate the hurricane would strike the coast late today.

Last night Port Arthur appeared to be directly in the path of the storm, but early today coast guard headquarters said the hurricane seemed to have veered slightly to the west in the direction which would bring it inland at a point between Port O'Connor and Freeport.

Storm warnings were displayed from Freeport eastward to Biloxi, Miss., and south of Arkansas Pass to Brownsville. Hurricane warnings were issued from Arkansas Pass to Port Arthur.

The weather bureau at New Orleans reported that high tides existed all along the Texas and West Louisiana coasts, and that with the approach of the hurricane to the coastline there would be "dangerous tides" throughout the storm area.

Precautions Taken

Although the Texas and West Louisiana coasts were expected to feel the brunt of the disturbance, precautionary measures also were taken by towns and cities along the gulf as far east as Florida.

In Port Arthur itself, officials were hopeful the storm would cause no severe damage. Already, however, high seas have caused the closing of the Sabine and Galvestone highways, and forced the shutting off to traffic of streets near the ship canal through the city.

Particular vigilance was exercised by the coast guard, Texas defense guardsmen and police patrols along the 10-foot levees which surround the city proper.

The levees were being pounded continually by high water.

Many Port Arthur stores were boarded up and scores of families left their homes for more sturdy shelter in downtown hotels and buildings.

Preparations also were made at Galveston, which expected to feel (Continued on Page Eight)

CUSTOMS GUARD KILLS AIR CORPS MAN IN SCUFFLE

HONOLULU, Sept. 23—Customs and Army officials and police today investigated the fatal shooting of a young Army Air Corps officer by a veteran Honolulu customs guard in a scuffle over inspection of the Army man's baggage.

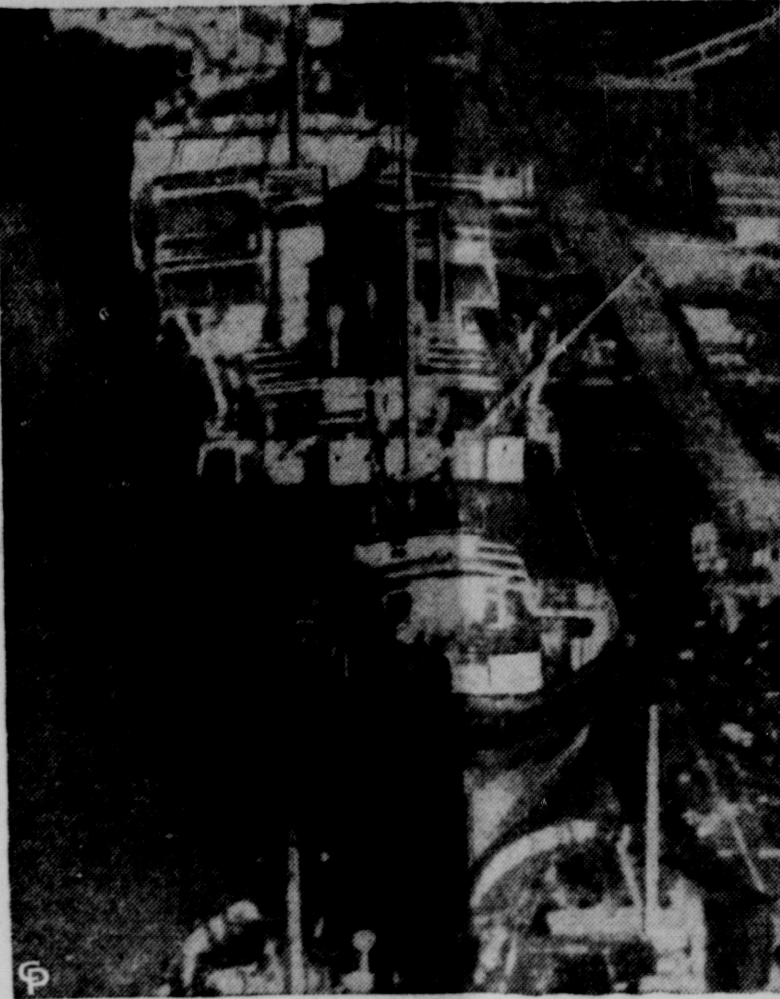

The officer, Second Lieut. Martin R. Connelly, 26, of Syracuse, N. Y., was killed instantly. He had just disembarked from the liner President Cleveland, en route to San Francisco from the Philippines after being relieved of duty because of physical disability.

Customs Guard John K. Yuen, veteran of 39 years service, admitted the shooting but said his gun discharged accidentally as he and Connelly scuffled when the Army man refused to open a package, claiming it had already been inspected. Connelly was shot through the heart. The package was later found to contain scenic photographs.

Ward C. Hibberly, acting collector of customs, said the shooting was "entirely in the line of duty." Yuen was held without charge pending an investigation.

Maisky Lists Nazi Loss At Three Millions, But Points To Soviet Crisis

LONDON, Sept. 23—Three million Germans—one third of the Nazi army—have been lost in the Russian campaign, Soviet Ambassador Ivan Maisky estimated today.

In a speech before the American Chamber of Commerce, Maisky said:

"By a moderate estimate, German losses in the east total three million killed, wounded, or missing. The Germans have lost in these three months 8,500 planes. About one third of the whole German army now is hors de combat."

British estimates last week put Russian losses also at three million — bringing to six million the number of casualties and prisoners in the Russian fight.) Nevertheless, Maisky declared, Russia is facing a "tense and difficult situation."

"There is no use of shutting our eyes to the realities," he said. "Amateur strategists talk too glibly about General Winter and General Mud. Modern technique has reduced General Winter and General Mud to the rank of major or lieutenant."

"The war on the Eastern Front will not be brought to a standstill either in the autumn or winter, and the Russian people don't base their views on such doubtful calculations. . . . The Soviet people prefer to face facts, and they have the right to expect co-operation from abroad because they are fighting heroically."

CAIRO—As a result of "vigorous patrolling activity," British forces at Tobruk are steadily enlarging the area outside the perimeter of their defenses, a British army communique said today. German and Italian forces besieging Tobruk, it was stated, are forced to evacuate this area each night due to British attacks. Aggressive action by British patrols in the Western Frontier area is continuing at the same time.

ROME—Axis "suicide boats" such as the torpedo craft which yesterday raided Gibraltar will attack any American shipping which attempts to reach Britain, Editor Virginio Gayda warned today. "The Gibraltar feat warns American shipping of the fate likely to befall craft entering British harbors," Gayda, spokesman for Premier Mussolini, wrote in the Giornale d'Italia.

Capital Says German Sinking Of Pink Star Planned

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23—With guns manned and decks cleared for action, U. S. warships today are believed to be intensifying their efforts to hunt down axis submarines in the North Atlantic, following the sinking of another American-owned vessel, the steamer Pink Star.

Sinking of the 6,850 ton freighter off the coast of Iceland September 19—three days after issuance of the "shoot first" orders to the Navy — is viewed in diplomatic quarters in Washington as a direct and defiant German challenge to President Roosevelt's declared policy of protecting the ships of all flags between this continent and Iceland.

The State Department, which announced late yesterday that the vessel, flying the Panamanian flag, was sent to the bottom, is without further information as to the fate of the crew of 34 or any other details of the sinking. No Americans were aboard. The ship was operated by the United States Lines.

Warning Fulfilled

This latest incident involving the seventh American ship since outbreak of the war is seen in Washington as fulfillment of Berlin's warning that Nazi submarines would continue to attack without warning in German blockade zones any ships suspected to be carrying war supplies to Great Britain.

It is further regarded as an indication that Germany does not intend to withdraw its warships completely from those waters which President Roosevelt has declared are "essential" to American defense.

On the contrary, it appears that German submarines intend to risk a clash with the United States Navy in order to attack ships in those areas which Germany has proclaimed a blockade zone.

Sinking of the Pink Star, formerly the Danish ship Lundy, is seen in official quarters as part of a deliberate policy rather than as an isolated incident. Officials are convinced that the German government undoubtedly notified the submarine commanders of the orders issued to the American Navy.

It is believed the ship that at (Continued on Page Eight)

NYE FLAYS USE OF ANTI-SEMITIC ANGLE BY FOES

NEW YORK, Sept. 23—Interventionists are using the anti-Semitic issue in order to "smear" those who want America to stay out of war, Senator Gerald P. Nye, North Dakota Republican, charged today.

Addressing an America First committee rally, Nye assailed Wendell L. Willkie in particular for raising the issue of anti-Semitism.

"The me-too man of the 1940 Republican presidential campaign has done his utmost to smear the cause of non-intervention with this anti-Semitic stick," Senator Nye declared. He added:

"I know for a fact that there is not an anti-Semitic hair on the head of Col. Charles Lindbergh or of Senator Burton K. Wheeler."

The meeting went off without incident although there had been an advance warning by former Magistrate Joseph Goldstein that he would seek Nye's arrest if the senator endorsed Lindbergh's assertion that the British, the Roosevelt administration, and the Jews were attempting to push America into war.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

Germany today tacitly admitted responsibility for sinking of the American-owned Panamanian steamer Pink Star off Iceland September 19. The incident aroused belief in Washington that United States warships are intensifying their efforts to hunt down axis submarines in the North Atlantic.

In commenting on the sinking of the Pink Star, a German government spokesman said the blow was "all according to international regulations."

"There is no reason for Americans to cry," the spokesman added. "They have been made fully aware of the blockade zone."

Diplomatic quarters in the capital viewed the sinking of the ship as a direct German challenge to President Roosevelt's declared policy of protecting all ships of all flags between the North American continent and Iceland.

In London, where newspapers splashed reports of the sinking, the Daily Mail commented:

"The first naval battle between United States and German warships may take place at any moment."

In the midst of this new sea crisis, Chancellor Hitler's field headquarters announced colossal triumphs in the battle of the Kiev zone—perhaps one of the greatest struggles in the world's history.

Nazi estimates said that at least 200,000 Red army soldiers have been killed in the titanic ten-day "iron ring" fight east of Kiev. This, according to German figures, brings the dead, wounded, and captured to between 600,000 and 750,000.

In what German military authorities described as "an irreparable, mortal wound in the Red Army's most vulnerable spot," 50 Soviet divisions were reported annihilated, and casualties were said to be mounting hourly.

HIGH COURT CALLS UP HARBAGE MILEAGE CASE

COLUMBUS, Sept. 23 — The state supreme court, with more than 200 cases on its calendar, convened today for its fall term.

The court was at full strength for the first time in several months, Justice Edward Matthias of Van Wert having recovered from a long illness.

Scheduled for immediate hearing was the suit brought by Arnett Harbage, West Jefferson farmer, to restrain payment of mileage and other fees to members of the state legislature who also serve on the state board of control.

Harbage contends that legislators' pay is established by law and they should not be paid for board of control work.

YOUTH, TIRED OF DOING 'CHORES', SHOOT FATHER

ALTURAS, Cal., Sept. 23—A

13-year-old boy who said he was "tired of doing household chores" today confessed that he shot and killed his father and seriously wounded his mother with a .22 caliber rifle at their mountain cabin.

The shooting occurred at Adin, 50 miles from Alturas. The father, R. C. McCain, lumber worker, died enroute to a hospital. The mother was expected to live.

The boy, Bobby McCain, said he had made up his mind to do no more of the household tasks to which his parents assigned him, and followed his father and shot him when he left the house to go to the woodshed. When his mother came running up, he shot her also, Sheriff John Sharp quoted the boy as saying.

Jailer George Kelly said the boy showed little remorse but said he "didn't think he'd do it over again."

F. D. R. TO TALK AT LAUNCHING OF CARGO VESSELS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23—The White House revealed today that President Roosevelt will make an address Saturday when the U. S. Maritime Commission holds its great "mass launchings" of new merchant cargo vessels.

White House Secretary Stephen T. Early said that the President spent this morning in his study working over an address of 500 or 600 words. The address will be recorded and the records made available for broadcasting at every shipyard where a vessel is launched. The Maritime Commission plans to launch more than a dozen ships at various ways on the east, west and gulf coasts.

New Yorker Says Solons

Record Now

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23—As Administration demands mounted for repeal or modification of the Neutrality Act, Rep. Fish (R) N. Y., ranking member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, today disclosed that he will shortly introduce a resolution for this country to declare war.

The New York non-interventionist leader, emphasizing that he is not in favor of it, declared that Congress should vote on the war issue.

"I will do all in my power to bring the resolution to the floor where I am confident it will be defeated two to one," he said.

The administration leadership, however, indicated that such a resolution would be steered to the Foreign Affairs Committee and allowed to die there.

Fish said however that he would seek to have hearings on it and would plead that the resolution embodied "the single great issue before the country today" and so should be sent to the floor for a roll call vote.

He said the resolution would be "a simple declaration of war" and added that he planned to formally introduce it next week.

Fish recalled a recent statement by Sen. George (D) Ga., former chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, that the people should have an opportunity to make "the supreme ultimate decision" before such matters as proposed repeal of the Neutrality (Continued on Page Eight)

HONOLULU, Sept. 23—Customs and Army officials and police today investigated the fatal shooting of a young Army Air Corps officer by a veteran Honolulu customs guard in a scuffle over inspection of the Army man's baggage.

The officer, Second Lieut. Martin R. Connelly, 26, of Syracuse, N. Y., was killed instantly. He had just disembarked from the liner President Cleveland, en route to San Francisco from the Philippines after being relieved of duty because of physical disability.

Customs Guard John K. Connelly was shot through the heart. The package was later found to contain scenic photographs.

Maisky Lists Nazi Loss At Three Millions, But Points To Soviet Crisis

LONDON, Sept. 23—Three million Germans—one third of the Nazi army—have been lost in the Russian campaign, Soviet Ambassador Ivan Maisky estimated today.

In a speech before the American Chamber of Commerce, Maisky said:

"By a moderate estimate, German losses in the east total three million killed, wounded, or missing."

"The Germans have lost in these three months 8,500 planes. About one third of the whole German army now is hors de combat."

British estimates last week put Russian losses also at three million—bringing to six million the number of casualties and prisoners in the Russian fight.

Nevertheless, Maisky declared, Russia is facing a "tense and difficult situation."

"There is no use of shutting our eyes to the realities," he said. "Amateur strategists talk too glibly about General Winter and General Mud. Modern technique has reduced General Winter and General Mud to the rank of major or lieutenant."

"The war on the Eastern Front will not be brought to a standstill either in the autumn or winter, and the Russian people don't base their views on such doubtful calculations. . . . The Soviet people prefer to face facts, and they have the right to expect co-operation from abroad because they are fighting heroically."

CURTISS - WRIGHT PLANE FACTORY STRIKE NEARING

COLUMBUS, Sept. 23—Complete tie-up of Curtiss-Wright's $14,000,000 aircraft plant at Columbus was threatened today unless the National Labor Relations Board orders an election to decide which of three unions shall bargain for workers.

The plant, a keystone in the nation's plane production program, employs about 2,500 men. It is organized by the Aircraft Independent Vertical Union, which also prevails at the Buffalo, N. Y. plants where 12,000 workers are employed.

The strike ultimatum was telegraphed to the NLRB board early today following a meeting of 250 night shift workers in a road house across from the plant at 2 p. m., according to A. G. Keller, a union member.

Keller said: "There is something radically wrong in this whole picture. There are 1,900 men carrying cards in our union, but we can't get a NLRB election to decide on a bargaining agent."

Grading, Leveling Of East Side Of Grounds, Seeding On Program

An increase in the National Youth Administration quota from 15 to 40 boys for work on the Ted Lewis Recreation Center promises to bring additional improvements to the grounds before winter.

NYA officials stationed at the city building Monday said the quota had been increased to forty and they urged all available young men of the community to make application for work in order to fill the quota. Applications for NYA work may be secured at the Mayor's office and an NYA representative will be stationed at City Hall next Monday from 9:30 a. m. until noon to interview boys for work on the northend project.

Work on the park grounds dribbled to almost nothing during the summer when the NYA quota was cut, but with additional NYA funds now available a new and larger quota has been set up.

Radcliff Hired

The Park Board Monday night employed J. F. Radcliff, High Street, as supervisor of the NYA work and Tuesday twelve boys under his supervision were working on the grounds. Radcliff, an employee of the service department, takes the place of Charles Bosworth, who has secured work at the Eagles' Lodge.

Most of the work at the Recreation Center this fall will be grading and leveling the east side of the grounds, and seeding grass seed.

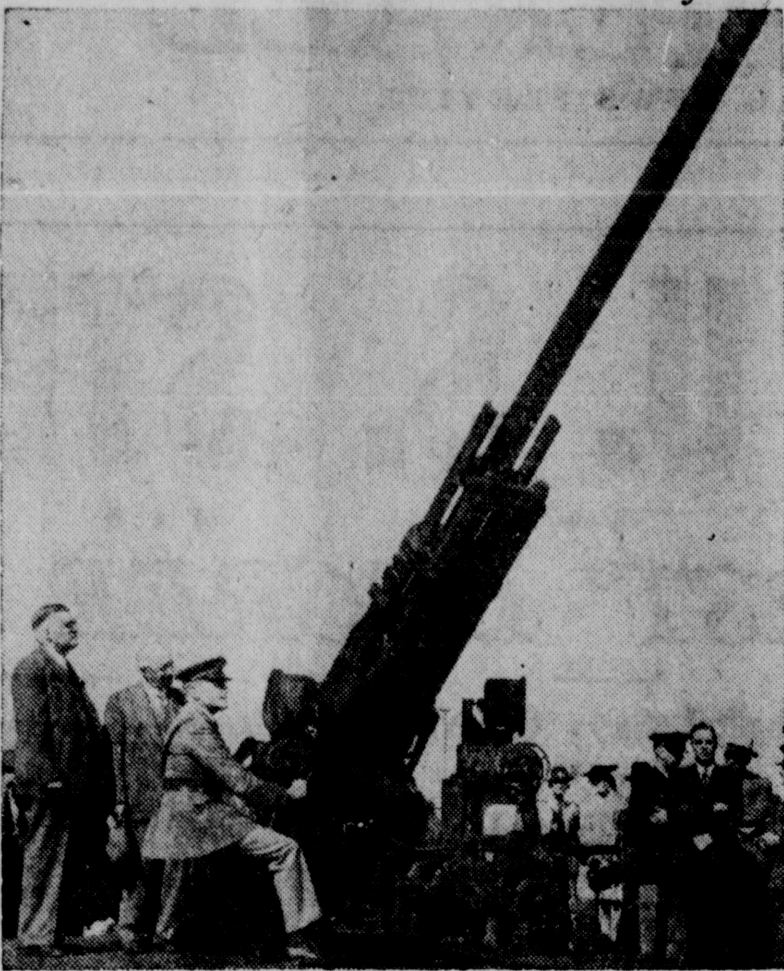

With additional help available, the Park Board is planning to meet in the near future to formulate an improvement program for the park. The board includes Earl Smith, Dan McClain, Ed Wallace, T. O. Gilliland, Dwight Steele, T. E. Wilson and Guy Pettit.

Ashville Banker Buys Marion, Licking Farms

In recent weeks James M. Borror sold his home farm of 401 acres in Scioto Township to Joseph P. Grimes, Kinnikinnick, and recently purchased one of 203 acres located on Route 23 five miles North of Marion, and another one of 175 acres on East Broad Street over the line four miles in Licking County and near Pataskala. Mr. Borror's son Curtis and his family will remove from the disposed of Scioto Township homestead to the Marion County farm, March 1. Max and Mrs. Gray, son-in-law and daughter of Mr. Borror, Scioto Township with their son James, will remove to the Licking County farm sometime in the not far distant future. Mr. Borror, a resident here for quite a long while and president of the Ashville Bank, will continue to be a resident of Ashville.

Charles Reid and wife, the former Miss Mary Kinder, are on a honeymoon trip to Washington D. C., and other Eastern points this week. They were married at Greenup, Ky., on Saturday, August 9, by Rev. Mr. Holbrook a Baptist minister. Asked about their future plans, if any, they told us that nothing definite had been worked out, but Mr. Reid would continue with a city manufacturing concern as in the long while past an dthat Mrs. Reid would continue to be a part of telephone operating force, here.

More of the same kind. Back several months ago both a choir and an orchestra were much in the talking stage at the Brethren

Church with a regular teacher and leader who knew how to get things done, in charge. It is hoped that that talk will soon take on life again and result in the organization of a sizable orchestra including the choir. No. not a thing wrong with the other church organization doing the same kind of thing. The orchestra youngsters we have contacted are all enthusiastic over their band and think it great. Paul Bowers in charge, with some eighteen members doing their stuff as directed. We will be naming them one of these days now soon. Neither Coach Carter nor school band teacher Brobst are residents of the village, but "quite soon here" was the word given us yesterday.

The picture show Meadows family, the Mr. and Mrs. and son Maynard, here for several days "looking things over" with the hopes of finding a suitable location for the operation of a show, are temporarily away, at the old home near Cincinnati, but said they would return the first of the month to continue their plans already begun.

Lee Sherman, 19, son of Walden and Mrs. Sherman, of near Marcy, and in the airplane service as a ground mechanic for the last several months at an Illinois field, has been transferred to a California location and is there now in service. He is in command of a crew of students and is already teaching them how to taxi planes about the flying field. Flying of planes is "just around the corner" for him, he thinks.

PAY INCREASES FOR 535 POLICE, FIREMEN VOTED

COLUMBUS, Sept. 23 — Pay raises ranging up to a maximum of $20 per month for approximately 300 Columbus firemen and 235 policemen had been approved today by city council.

Also adopted by the city's governing body was legislation permitting the purchase of the 1,000 parking meters now installed in the downtown section.

Legislation which would have given 152 hourly employes pay for 48 hours they work instead of 40 hours as set up in the Jacobs expert wage survey was held in finance committee for a week, however.

Under the fire-police ordinances, the rank and file of each department, with four or more years' service, will receive a maximum of $180 per month. The top for the police department had been $160 with $165 the maximum in the fire division.

It was estimated the additional salary cost for the remainder of the year in the two departments would cost about $20,000.

The levy, councilmen maintain, is the only way that the city can secure revenue to operate the city departments during the coming year.

SOME PEOPLE NEVER LEARN... but most of them do!

There are always a few "smart alecks" who want to stand up and rock the boat. But most people try to keep out of trouble.

The same sort of thing happens in the retailing of beer. The great majority of beer retail establishments are clean, law-abiding and wholesome. But occasionally you may find a "smart aleck" retailer who violates the law or permits anti-social conditions.

We of the brewing industry want these anti-social retailers wiped out! Because they imperil your right to drink good beer...and our right to make it.

We want to protect the benefits that beer has brought to Ohio—employment for 50,196 persons since relegalization, an annual payroll of $46,441,543 and taxes of $10,717,714 paid to the state last year.

This state, too, has an important stake in Beer's purchases from over 100 industries supplying the brewing industry with materials, equipment and services.

You can help us in our public-spirited program by (1) patronizing only reputable and legal beer establishments and (2) by reporting any irregularities you may see to the proper authorities.

The entertainment took the form of an education program, the 4-H Club youngsters discussing their various projects and demonstrating much of their work.

The meeting held in Hanley's Tearoom was attended by a large group of Kiwanians in addition to four guests, Joe Merrick and Ernest Hoffman of Columbus and Harold Defenbaugh and J. O. Whiting of Circleville.

PAY INCREASES FOR 535 POLICE, FIREMEN VOTED

COLUMBUS, Sept. 23 — Pay raises ranging up to a maximum of $20 per month for approximately 300 Columbus firemen and 235 policemen had been approved today by city council.

Also adopted by the city's governing body was legislation permitting the purchase of the 1,000 parking meters now installed in the downtown section.

Legislation which would have given 152 hourly employs pay for 48 hours they work instead of 40 hours as set up in the Jacobs expert wage survey was held in finance committee for a week, however.

Under the fire-police ordinances, the rank and file of each department, with four or more years' service, will receive a maximum of $180 per month. The top for the police department had been $160 with $165 the maximum in the fire division.

It was estimated the additional salary cost for the remainder of the year in the two departments would cost about $20,000.

MEETING TO PROMOTE LEVY CALLED BY LYNCH

Council's Publicity Committee, assigned the task of "selling" the 2-mill levy to Circleville voters before the general election, will meet with club committees and other persons interested in promoting the levy Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the Council Chamber.

Purpose of the meeting, according to Frank Lynch, chairman of the council committee, is to discuss the city's financial condition with delegates who will be asked to meet with various groups and urged passage of the levy issue.

The levy, councilmen maintain, is the only way that the city can secure revenue to operate the city departments during the coming year.

DRIVING AUTO WITHOUT PERMISSION IS CHARGED

Operating a motor vehicle without the owner's permission placed Robert Reynolds, 33, 125 West Corwin Street, in City Jail Tuesday pending hearing before Mayor W. B. Cady.

Reynolds was arrested at his home Tuesday at 6 a. m. for driving the car of Mrs. Dora Wilson, East Main Street, without her permission. The car, taken from East Main Street, was found parked on Pickaway Street early Tuesday.

The lights were burning, the motor was hot and the gas tank was empty, police said.

Vall Short, 114 West Town Street, Columbus, was fined $100 and costs and committed to County Jail late Monday by Mayor Cady for driving when under the influence of alcohol.

There are always a few "smart alecks" who want to stand up and rock the boat. But most people try to keep out of trouble.
The same sort of thing happens in the retailing of beer. The great majority of beer retail establishments are clean, law-abiding and wholesome. But occasionally you may find a "smart aleck" retailer who violates the law or permits anti-social conditions.
We of the brewing industry want these anti-social retailers wiped out! Because they imperil your right to drink good beer...and our right to make it.
We want to protect the benefits that beer has brought to Ohio—employment for 50,196 persons since relegalization, an annual payroll of $46,441,543 and taxes of $10,717,714 paid to the state last year.
This state, too, has an important stake in Beer's purchases from over 100 industries supplying the brewing industry with materials, equipment and services.

Berlin Quotes Croations; Three More Frenchmen Executed

NAZI CAPTAIN KILLED

London Newspaper Reports 295, Including Women, Shot Since August

BERLIN, Sept. 23—Execution by firing squads of 50 Jews and Communists as purveyors of Communist propaganda and as the "intellectual perpetrators" of the recent bombing of the telephone headquarters at Zagreb was announced by the Croatian Ministry of Interior today.

A German news agency (DNB) dispatch from Zagreb said the Jews and Communists were sentenced to death by a military court September 19 and have been put to death since.

The same court, the dispatch said, sentenced to death one Moslem peasant and one Croatian carpenter convicted of murdering a number of Serbs. Both have been executed, according to the dispatch.

VICHY, Sept. 23—Three more Frenchmen have been executed in reprisal for anti-German outbreaks in occupied France, according to an official German military communiqué today.

Announcement of the new executions followed the sentencing yesterday of five men to death by the new state court sitting in Paris.

Captain Shot Down

The executions also followed disclosure of the assassinations in Paris last week of a German captain Scheben of the German occupying army, who was given an elaborate military funeral.

A German officer, delivering an eulogy over the dead man's bier, pledged the Nazi army to use "all possible means to ensure that these attacks shall not go unavenged."

(The London Daily Mirror reported that at least 295 persons, including several women, have been executed by the Germans in occupied countries since the beginning of last August.

(The paper said this total was reached in accordance with "figures compiled by Nazi sources."

(The London News Chronicle reported, meanwhile, that huge fires have broken out at the Skoda arms works at Pilsen and that at least one power plant has been destroyed. It added that violent explosions likewise destroyed the shell filling plant at Vlahin in southern Bohemia.

(British radio broadcasts picked up by CBS and NBC in New York said the power station at Trebnitz in Silesia, Germany, had been "reduced to crumbs" by an explosion, wounding 90 Germans.)

VETERINARIAN ADMITS FIRING SHOT AT WOMAN

DELAWARE, Sept. 23—Winfield Wilcox, 67-year-old Delaware County veterinarian, has admitted the fatal shooting of a 45-year-old Morrow County woman whose body was found near Delaware, Deputy Sheriff Earl Fravel asserted today.

Fravel said Mrs. Elsie Powell, of Turney Center, was shot during an argument at Wilcox's home. Wilcox turned the gun on himself, but the bullet glanced off his skull and the wound is not expected to be fatal, the deputy said.

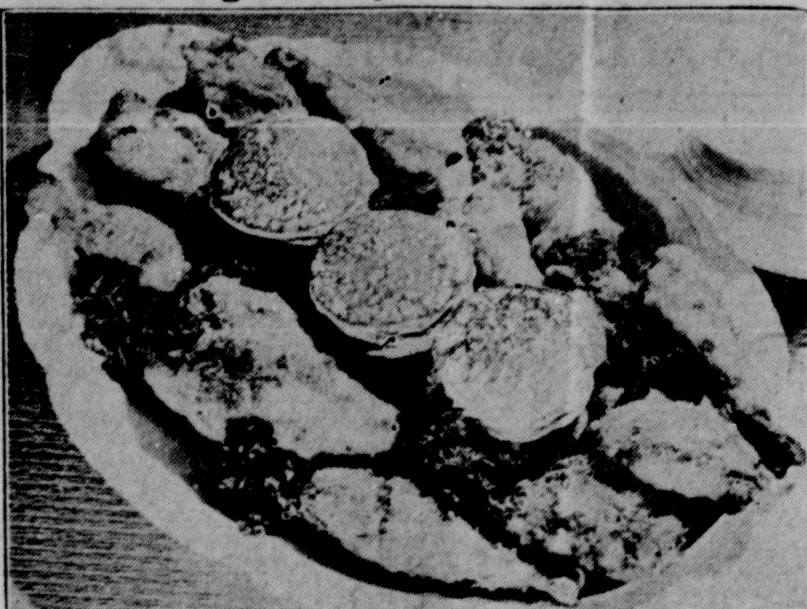

Wilcox, who holds a license as a veterinarian in Canada, had been "keeping company" with Mrs. Powell, Fravel said.

Old Favorites And New Ideas For Cooking Poultry In Latest Booklet

A happy accompaniment for that luscious Fried Chicken is little, tender pancakes. Crisp fritters or hot biscuits and honey are additional suggestions from "250 Ways to Prepare Poultry and Game Birds," our newest Cookbooklet.

Would you like to serve a succulent Chicken Pie topped with delicately browned biscuits? Perhaps you have always wanted to turn out a batch of successful Chicken Turnovers; or the kind of Boiled Squabs that inspire sonnets. Well, whatever you're interested in concerning any kind of poultry or game birds, the fourth Cookbooklet in The Herald series of 20, will bring you recipes and suggestions to answer every need.

Speaking of turnovers, here's an elegant recipe to whip up, and you can use leftover chicken for it, too.

Chicken Turnovers

1 1/2 cup minced 1 tablespoon cooked chicken minced parsley
1/2 cup thick 1 recipe pastry
white sauce 1 egg white

Combine chicken, white sauce and parsley. Roll pastry to 1/4 inch thickness, cut into squares and brush with egg white. Place 2 tablespoons of chicken mixture on each square, fold over and press edges together with a fork. Place on baking sheet. Prick upper crust to allow for escape of steam. Bake in very hot oven (450 degrees F.) until browned. Serve with gravy or seasoned white sauce. Serves 4.

Sometime when you feel like serving chicken in a truly unusual way, try this exotic dish:

Chicken Pilau

4-pound roast- 2 cups uncooked ing chicken rice
1 teaspoon curry 4 cups chicken powder mixed drippings and water, com- bined with 1 cup water

Dress chicken as for roasting, omitting the stuffing. Place in uncovered roaster, add curry powder mixed with the water and cook in moderate oven (350 degrees F.), adding more water as needed and basting occasionally. After chicken has cooked about 1 1/2 hour, drain, replace drippings with enough water to make 4 cups, and cook slowly for about 20 minutes. Set in warm place

Washington Merry-Go-Round

has been down on Hollywood leaders ever since.

For more than a year these three men have been collaborating in attacks—some public, some behind the scenes—on the motion picture industry.

Most of the out-in-front fighting has been done by G. Allison Phelps in his daily broadcasts. However, the man behind him was Russell Mack (Mahoney) and the man behind Mack in turn was Winfield Sheehan.

Last summer G. Allison Phelps, the Los Angeles radio commentator, went to Washington. There he hung out at the office of isolationist Senator Reynolds, of North Carolina, and conferred at length with the isolationist Senators who now have turned up on the sub-committee investigating motion pictures.

Returning to Los Angeles, Phelps boasted over the radio that he had accomplished big things in Washington. And sure enough, on August 1, Senator Clark, of Missouri, introduced a resolution demanding an investigation of Hollywood. Two days later, Phelps in his radio broadcast commented on the Clark resolution as follows:

"And now, friends, this is but the beginning. I wish I could read you the letters I have received within the last two weeks from certain Senators bearing on the investigation. I wish I could read to you one telegram I received from Senator Charles W. Tobey (now on the investigating committee). This is but the forerunner of the congressional investigation of the entire motion picture industry."

Mr. Phelps had gone to town in Washington.

HOLLYWOOD COMES TO WASHINGTON

Real lowdown on the alleged $100,000 fee Willkie is said to be getting from the movie industry is that he did not talk fee in advance. At first he refused to take the case because he hadn't time to prepare it, finally consented but said the fee would depend on how much time the hearings took.

Movie moguls have wisecracked that they might pay Willkie with the proceeds from one anti-Nazi propaganda film. If so he would get far more than $100,000. Contrary to the impression spread by the Senate committee, these films make real dough. That, say the moguls, is why they produce them.

Isolationist Senators gave it out that Nick Schenck, of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, shunned an appearance before their committee. Schenck is probably the biggest force in Hollywood, produced "Escape" and some of the biggest money-makers among the anti-Nazi films. Actually he has been itching to get on the witness stand, but the Senate committee stalled for time, allegedly to let Senator Curley Brooks go to the American Legion Convention.

James Twohey's weekly Analysis of Newspaper Opinion shows that about 90 percent of the newspaper editorials panned the Senate for investigating the movies. . . . Ninety-three percent of the newspapers also were critical of Lindbergh for blaming the trend to war on the Jews.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

First thing OPM chiefs did when hard-boiled Price Administrator Leon Henderson became an OPM executive in the recent shake-up was to put under his jurisdiction the auto, paper pulp and machine tool industries, all subjects of hot controversy. Henderson's reply was, "The tougher they are the better I like 'em." . . . Smoking is prohibited in the Senate chamber but that doesn't prevent South Carolina's "Cotton Ed" Smith from enjoying his tobacco. He loads up with a huge wad and chews furiously during sessions, spitting carefully into a spittoon placed especially at his desk. . . . Although Floyd Odlum is a leading Wall Streeter his strongest backers as head of the new OPM Division for Contract Distribution were inner circle New Dealers.

FOUR STRANDED IN COLUMBUS AS FIRE HITS TRUCK

COLUMBUS, Sept. 23—A man, his wife and two small daughters of Minersville, O., were stranded in Columbus today because fire destroyed their coal truck. The mother and one child were burned on both legs.

Those stranded were Mr. and Mrs. George Stace and daughters, Margaret, 5, and Daisy, 1, who came to Columbus to deliver coal. Firemen said the blaze originated from a broken gas line.

Curtis Moore and Roy Weatherholt, of Columbus, saw the flaming truck as they drove past. Moore, according to police, jumped out of his car, jerked the door of the cab open and pulled the stunned family out of reach of the flames.

He and Weatherholt treated Mrs. Stace and Margaret for first-degree burns. The injured were later taken to a fire engine house and given additional treatment.

Five tons of coal in the truck was saved by firemen but the truck itself was burned almost beyond recognition and definitely beyond repair.

Ross County Woman Tries Two Practice Shots, Decapitates Self

CHILLICOTHE, Sept. 23—Dependent over ill health, Mrs. Clifford Deffenbaugh, 51, Trego Creek road, one mile west of Masierville, shot and killed herself Monday with a 12-gauge shotgun, Sheriff O. A. Maughmer reported.

Mrs. Deffenbaugh fired two test shots, then sat down in a living room chair and fired the third shot which blew her head off, the sheriff said.

Mr. Deffenbaugh and Miss Mattie Trego, the woman's sister who had been staying at the Deffenbaugh residence during her sister's illness, were milking in a pasture near the house at the time of the shooting, but said they did not hear the shots. The first shot shattered a vase on the sewing machine and the second tore a hole in the floor.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Deffenbaugh is survived by a daughter, four sisters, two brothers and three grandchildren.

HOLLYWOOD COMES TO WASHINGTON

Real lowdown on the alleged $100,000 fee Willkie is said to be getting from the movie industry is that he did not talk fee in advance. At first he refused to take the case because he hadn't time to prepare it, finally consented but said the fee would depend on how much time the hearings took.

Movie moguls have wisecracked that they might pay Willkie with the proceeds from one anti-Nazi propaganda film. If so he would get far more than $100,000. Contrary to the impression spread by the Senate committee, these films make real dough. That, say the moguls, is why they produce them.

Isolationist Senators gave it out that Nick Schenck, of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, shunned an appearance before their committee. Schenck is probably the biggest force in Hollywood, produced "Escape" and some of the biggest money-makers among the anti-Nazi films. Actually he has been itching to get on the witness stand, but the Senate committee stalled for time, allegedly to let Senator Curley Brooks go to the American Legion Convention.

James Twohey's weekly Analysis of Newspaper Opinion shows that about 90 percent of the newspaper editorials panned the Senate for investigating the movies. Ninety-three percent of the newspapers also were critical of Lindbergh for blaming the trend to war on the Jews.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

First thing OPM chiefs did when hard-bolled Price Administrator Leon Henderson became an OPM executive in the recent shake-up was to put under his jurisdiction the auto, paper pulp and machine tool industries, all subjects of hot controversy. Henderson's reply was, "The tougher they are the better I like 'em" . . . Smoking is prohibited in the Senate chamber but that doesn't prevent South Carolina's "Cotton Ed" Smith from enjoying his tobacco. He loads up with a huge wad and chews furiously during sessions, spitting carefully into a spittoon placed especially at his desk. . . . Although Floyd Odlum is a leading Wall Streeter his strongest backers as head of the new OPM Division for Contract Distribution were inner circle New Dealers.

FOUR STRANDED IN COLUMBUS AS FIRE HITS TRUCK

COLUMBUS, Sept. 23—A man, his wife and two small daughters of Minersville, O., were stranded in Columbus today because fire destroyed their coal truck. The mother and one child were burned on both legs.

Those stranded were Mr. and Mrs. George Stace and daughters, Margaret, 5, and Daisy, 1, who came to Columbus to deliver coal. Firemen said the blaze originated from a broken gas line.

Curtis Moore and Roy Weatherholt, of Columbus, saw the flaming truck cab as they drove past. Moore, according to police, jumped out of his car, jerked the door of the cab open and pulled the stunned family out of reach of the flames.

He and Weatherholt treated Mrs. Stace and Margaret for first-degree burns. The injured were later taken to a fire engine house and given additional treatment.

Five tons of coal in the truck was saved by firemen but the truck itself was burned almost beyond recognition and definitely beyond repair.

SHOTGUN USED TO TAKE LIFE

Ross County Woman Tries Two Practice Shots, Decapitates Self

CHILLICOTHE, Sept. 23—Dependent over ill health, Mrs. Clifford Deffenbaugh, 51, Trego Creek road, one mile west of Madsesville, shot and killed herself Monday with a 12-gauge shotgun, Sheriff O. A. Maugher reported.

Mrs. Deffenbaugh fired two test shots, then sat down in a living room chair and fired the third shot which blew her head off, the sheriff said.

Mr. Deffenbaugh and Miss Mattie Trego, the woman's sister who had been staying at the Deffenbaugh residence during her sister's illness, were milking in a pasture near the house at the time of the shooting, but said they did not hear the shots. The first shot shattered a vase on the sewing machine and the second tore a hole in the floor.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Deffenbaugh is survived by a daughter, four sisters, two brothers and three grandchildren.

GOODS FROM U. S. A.

AN American newspaper man, permitted to watch the unloading of a convoy
at a British port the other day, said it was like "old home week". He didn't see people from all over the U. S. A., but he saw food and supplies, ranging from peanuts to airplanes, from shipping points that pretty well covered the country.

The dock hands were obviously delighted, and the observer felt a thrill of pride and satisfaction. The first object
he saw was a big bomber from Santa Monica, Calif. The man in charge of plane unloading said such ships were in the air
three days after they came off the boats.

At the next wharf the reporter, a native of Alabama, was pleased with the sacks of beans from Idaho, the Wisconsin
cheese, the California seedless raisins, the Georgia peanuts. A truck passed with boxes of citrus fruits from Florida. A grinning docker sat on a pile of boxes marked
"Skinned Hams, Chicago." Behind a pile of foodstuffs stood an ambulance. Its label showed it to be a gift to the British from the people of Milford, Conn. There were machine tools from Indiana, aircraft parts from New Haven, fire extinguishers from Brooklyn and dried apples from San Francisco. Wilmington, Del., was represented by boxes of fiber, and Trenton, N. J., by insulation material.

Officials told the reporter that such supplies were now arriving at British ports at the rate of 850,000 tons a week. Every bit of it is important and makes its special contribution to the ultimate victory.

FAKE ANTI-JUDAISM

THE absurdity of the racial venom with which the Nazis seek to poison the world is seen now in Japan. An anti-Jewish rally was held there not long ago, attended by 1,000 persons, who adopted this resolution:

"The Jewish aspiration to dominate
the world is not compatible with the spirit of the Japanese Empire."

The statement runs naturally into the Nazi form. And how little it really means to the Japanese, who have no "Jewish problem" at all, may be seen from the statement of an American correspondent in Tokyo. He says that puzzled citizens go around asking, "What is a Jew?" They have to be told in order to get their borrowed ideology straight. And so do a lot of people in other countries.

Can we produce planes? Well, reports say we're making them now at the rate
of 22,000 a year, half of 'em war planes,
and half training planes, and we'll be up to 30,000 a year by 1942.

'ROUND CIRCLEVILLE... Hour by Hour

Pages From the Diary of An Antiquated Reporter:

Up to a grand morning, one that even the early news out of Europe could not spoil. Took the dog for a back yard stroll
and returned to the prints,
finding that the Russians continue their great fight. And it is a great fight. Even the experts believed that the Reds could not last more than two or three weeks against Hitler's mechanized hordes. But they have been doing quite well up to now. It appears that the Russians are a race that will not be defeated and even if Hitler does succeed in crushing Stalin's armies he will not have crushed the Russian people and he will have more trouble left on his hands than he knows how to handle. I have an intense dislike of the Russians as communists, but have the greatest respect for them as patriots.
They know how to fight, are not afraid to die.

One day we may have to face
the same situation that confronts the Russians and my hope is that we will be ready when the time comes. Too many folk believe that one American fighter can lick a dozen of any other soldiers. That is far from the truth as anyone who served in the last World War or the Spanish American strife can and will tell you. Given equal equipment we are at least as good as any, but one brave man with a rifle and bayonet can not defeat

even one coward in a tank or a dive bomber. Day by day we approach the zero hour and we are yet far, far from being prepared for war.

The Darrow farm out in Harrison Township produced an ear of red popcorn that one might easily mistake for a great strawberry, and Pat Yates in his city garden produced seven tomatoes in a cluster. Fairly large ones, too.

Edgar Friedman, brother of Milt and Max and of Ted Lewis, has left Lancaster for Los Angeles where he has been assigned by the U. S. war department for duty in the U. S. Army engineer's office. Edgar was graduated from the civil engineering college of Ohio State university in 1913. His friends here wish him well.

And Ted Lewis, who is playing this week in Columbus will visit the village before leaving the state capital. He and his wife are expected to inspect improvements made so far at Ted Lewis park.

What a colorful event the World Series will be if the Dodgers win the National pennant, which it appears they will.
Most folk hereabouts are pulling for the Dodgers although few of them think that Lippy's Bums
will have much of a chance against the Yanks. And the sports fans for the most part
are willing to wager their dimes
on a Louis victory over Nova next week.

Met Billy Betts and learned how he had caught twelve quail
in his back yard and put them away for the night after deciding that their mother either had been killed or had deserted them. Anyone who ever has tried to capture a little quail
knows that Billy had a real job on his hands. Said he would not have been able to do the job except for the help of his big cat who would chase the birds down in the tall grass and then hold them down with one paw until Billy arrived. If you know anything about raising little quail you should get in touch with Billy. It is his first experience and he is puzzled.

WINFIELD SHEEHAN POWER

WASHINGTON — Chief questions being asked of the Senate's investigation of Hollywood are: Who is really behind it?
Who persuaded a sub-committee to proceed with an unauthorized probe?

The Senators who introduced the resolution, Nye and Clark, admit that they haven't seen the movies which they are criticizing. Yet they are armed with a great mass of data which someone must have dug up for them. The other members of the sub-committee also admit they haven't seen the alleged propaganda pictures. And the Senate as a whole rejected the investigation and declined to appropriate any money for it.

But despite all this, five Senators are going ahead anyway, spending considerable money and even more time to stage a solemn investigation of Hollywood.

Senators are famous for their laziness.
They don't go looking for extra work. Obviously someone coked them up.

The answer to this mystery has for some time been in the hands of Wendell Willkie, counsel to the picture industry. But he has no right of cross-examination, and so far this has prevented his making public the solution.

However, he has significant evidence that for several weeks the America First Committee has had a group of research people busy in New York studying the movies and radio programs. They have been working under the direction of John T. Flynn, head of the New York America
First Committee. And one research worker hired to listen in on radio programs was Guy Juneman, a henchman of the famous Joe McWilliams, Christian Front leader in New York. These were the people who dug up part of the dope for the Senators.

HOLLYWOOD GHOSTS

But even more important than this New York group has been the little group of ghosts in Los Angeles, who helped inspire
the present Senate investigation. Its members include:

G. Allison Phelps—Los Angeles radio commentator and author of the "Tower of Babel", a booklet scathingly critical of Hollywood.

Russell Mack—(real name Mahoney)
a former motion picture scenario writer,
who visited Germany shortly before the war started.

Winfield Sheehan — husband of the famous opera singer, Jeritza. Sheehan was a producer, for Shirley Temple and Will Rogers.

Sheehan had some lucky breaks—and some unlucky ones. He was lucky enough to be with 20th Century and Fox just at the time Shirley Temple and Will Rogers were in their heyday. But on the other hand, he had no success whatsoever with Alice Faye, who went over big only after Sheehan left 20th Century.

Subsequently for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer he produced "Florian", supposed to be the story of his wife, Jeritza, with the plot laid in a Spanish riding school in Vienna. The film was a flop, and Sheehan

6th Sense of Blind

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

● No one can watch a bat, as I did last night, flying in the twilight of the garden without noticing again its remarkable ability to avoid obstacles. It swoops around at no mean rate of speed.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest
only, and then only through his column.

headed dead on for the limb of a tree, or the side of the garage,
and at the last split second looms up and away. What sense guides
it? Not sight entirely.

A scientist fitted up a room with heavy cross wires, and released a bat into it in total darkness, but the animal flew around and avoided collision with all the wires. Hearing, is the answer of science. Bats emit sound tones in flight of 50,000 vibrations per second—too high for human hearing. These reflect from obstacles in their path and guide them. Like aviators, bats come in on the beam—an auditory beam.

Dallenbach's Tests

We hear of the "sixth sense,"
the "warning sense" of the blind in avoiding obstacles. What is it?
The bat's method gives us a hint,
according to Dr. Karl M. Dallen-bach, professor of psychology at Cornell, before the General Electric Science Forum, described in "Science and Discovery" for September.

In testing a group of blind people and a group with normal vision who were to be blindfolded,
the blind expressed confidence beforehand that they could tell when an obstacle is in the path, the seeing ones were not so sure. In order to have a definite unit of measurement of this ability, they were asked to walk up to a blank wall. The exact distance when they stopped and began to sense its presence could be used as an accurate comparison of sixth sense ability.

The spot where they stopped
when they first perceived the presence of the wall was put down as one figure. Then they were told to walk further until they were as close as possible without coming into contact with the wall. The first distance divided by the second gave the ratio used as a standard.

Hearing Guided Them

At first the ones with normal
vision would stop at twenty feet
from the wall, giving a very low ratio, but they soon learned and acquired as good a ratio as the blind subjects.

Some of them thought they detected the wall by pressure sensations in the skin of the face and hands. These were eliminated by a veil of heavy felt to cover the face without coming into contact with it. Wearing this, the groups perceived the wall as accurately
as before.

Then hearing was tested by plugging up the ears, leaving the face uncovered with the exception of the blindfolds. This destroyed their sixth sense entirely. In 400 trials both blind and those with normal vision ran into the wall
every time when the ears were stopped.

So the blind's sixth sense turns out to be hearing. "The subjects were able to avoid the wall when their hearing was intact," says Dr. Dallenbach, "but unable to avoid it when the hearing was impaired."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

G. G. M.—"I can't drink our water so I drink pop instead. Is too much pop harmful and is it fattening?" Is it harmful for a boy 4 years old to have any coffee
every morning? I can't get him away from it."

Answer—Pop does no special harm. All pop contains sugar and to that extent is fattening. In my opinion, four years is too young for children to be drinking coffee.

A Ride in a Paper Boat

By MARIE BLIZARD
WRITTEN FOR AND RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION.

SYNOPSIS

Leaving New York for Miami to marry
again.

HALLIE SINGLETON, a fashion
model, reminisces about the time, six years before, when she was only 21
years old and had just met ERIC ADAMS, a young would-be actor.
She remembers how SHEILA SHERMAN, a chorus girl and friend of Eric's, appeared on the scene.

YESTERDAY: Toby Fennell, a friend of Eric's, arrives shortly before the wedding.

CHAPTER TEN

YES, TOBY was smiling. It was a pathetic sort of little smile, but it was a smile. Nothing terrible had happened to Mummie or Dad, or any of the other unnamed things
she'd thought in that dreadful moment.

Hallie suddenly realized that she was standing in her slip and stocking feet, grasping Toby's arm.
She snatched at one of the batik
scarfs that was always to be found amid the litter of books and paints and odds and ends in Sue's studio and mumbled excuses and said, suddenly remembering, "What is it, Toby?"

"Someone to give the bride away."

"But, Toby, not you?"
Toby said, "Come in, Doctor!"

Dr. Singleton put his head around the door and Hallie, with a little cry, flew to him, hugging him until he cried for help.

"Oh, Daddy! Daddy! This is the omen of good luck I needed so badly.
Did Mummie...?"
"Your mother sailed for Bermuda this morning. I came down to put her on the boat. And this young man...?" He looked over her shoulder to where Toby was standing, "happened to come along,
since Louise motored down with us..."

"Louise! Louise is here?" Hallie cried, feeling that her cup of happiness was brimming over. "Oh, Daddy, this is going to be the most wonderful wedding ever. Only now it's too late to have Louise and Toby stand up with us, but it won't matter."

Toby's mouth was a straight, un-
smiling line when she looked at it,
and then at the clock. "Sue, take care of everybody. I may be able to receive in a slip, but I can't get married in it."

She was married, not in the creamy satin and tulle which was to be in its box for six years, but in a frock of beige with a cluster of brown orchids at her shoulder. She had chosen her own ring, a simple band of gold. And when Eric slipped it proudly over her finger,
she thought no wedding could have meant more to her than that one did.

There was Eric, tall and proud and handsome at her side. And a step behind him, her dear Daddy, loving her, standing by her, the weight of his love already bowing his shoulders.

Dr. Singleton would not join them for the wedding breakfast; he said to get back to his work in Worburn, but he took them aside
for a moment. "If there's anything

you need," he said, "I guess your Daddy can help out. I wish I could give you an allowance, but your mother..."

"Daddy!" Hallie protested, her hand affectionately over his trembling mouth. "We are rich. We are independent. Don't you ever worry about us."

Later, Eric said, "That was nice
of your dad. It's all right to know that there always is someone to fall back on."

"We're not ever going to fall back on anybody. We'll get along on our own. We've a perfectly sweet apartment—even if we can't afford it—and it's going to be our home, the walls, our fortress against the attacks of the world
on our happiness."

Fortresses they may have been,
but they enclosed very small rooms,
with a view that overlooked a court
that separated their apartment
from the back of the apartment on the next street. By craning her neck, Hallie could see a patch of sky that she calculated to be ten feet square.

But the rooms were nice. There was a living room with wide, exposed lead-paned windows, a bedroom with just room enough for their two beds and a highboy, a tiny foyer and a tinier kitchen. It was much smaller, and much more expensive—$150 a month—than Hallie would have wished for. But Eric told her that "a good address" was very important to him professionally,
and a central location was equally important, since they had no car and taxis were expensive.

Hallie believed anything Eric told her, and she knew she could manage easily on the remaining $150 for all that the furniture installments had to come out of it.
Well, no matter, she had nothing to do through the days and nights
but be a home maker and Eric's wife.

It was like playing house to make the apartment into a home.
With Sue's help, she chose daring color schemes and with Toby's help at paint and brush, they turned the living room walls into a deep turquoise and hung heavy apple green satin curtains at the one big window so that it looked almost twice as large. Fortunately, the living room could hold but little furniture.
A crimson sofa for one wall, a series of book-shelves for another, an occasional chair or two, and a wide old desk, which they picked up at an auction, filled the room.

Toby sent them a hunting print,
a very good one, which they hung over the sofa. Sue was to do a portrait of Hallie as her gift. In the meantime, she arrived one night
with a wash-basket full of pots,
pans, glasses and a cocktail shaker. "The practical things," she said.
"Or haven't you two thought of practical things?"

Hallie said, "I do—sometimes.
But mostly I'm having a wonderful honeymoon. I go to rehearsals with Eric, and we take bus rides and ferryboat rides, and go to the movies, and eat at funny little restaurants, and have breakfast at 2 o'clock in the afternoon off a card

table. Oh, the Bohemian life is wonderful!"

"Humph!" said sue.
There was another wedding present that came a week after they were married. It was a check from Louise and it was for $50. With it there was a note saying that she thought Hallie might choose a gift for herself.

"That's one large item off our budget, darling," Hallie said. "It will pay for one-third of the sofa."
"By the way," Eric said, tossing
a check across the card table
where they were having their late breakfast, "here's another one."
Hallie picked it up. "It's for a hundred! And it's from your brother.
It's from Win. How generous of him!"

"He could spare it," Eric said,
picking up the newspaper. "I see the announcement of our opening is in the morning paper."

"Eric, we could send this check along with Louise's and then we'd actually own the sofa."

Eric had the paper propped up in front of him. "We both need some clothes. I'll have to get about more now and my things are pretty shabby. I want you to get some new things, too. But I want to go with you when you buy them."

Hallie sighed. "I wish I hadn't been so proud. I should have brought some of my trousseau things. Maybe Daddy..."

Eric put down the paper. "Hallie, I love you, dear, but I do not love your clothes. Sweaters! Skirts!
Flat heels! That sort of thing is all right for Worburn..." He shook his head.

Hallie looked stunned. All the girls she knew wore good tweeds,
good sweaters, simple clothes.
For an instant she remembered
Sheila Sherman's clothes and wondered with horror if Eric expected her to dress like that. She said tersely, "I have plenty of clothes, but you do need some, Eric." She handed Win's check back across the table.

Eric pocketed it and came around and kissed her. "Sweet!
With so little experience, how did you learn to be such a perfect wife?
Did your mother teach you?"

She laughed at his nonsense.
Her mother had taught her manners, and so that afternoon,
suspecting that Eric would not think of it, she sat down to write Winthrop Adams to thank him for his wedding gift.

When Eric found her at the desk,
he leaned over her, muzzling the soft hair at the back of her neck
with his nose. "What lists are you making now?"

"Not a list. I'm writing Win, to thank him."
Calmly, Eric reached over and picked up the letter. He tore it into shreds and dropped it into the wastebasket. "Waste of time," he said.

"Eric! You might need your brother sometime."

Eric grinned. "With your family in back of us?... I'll drop a line to Win myself."

GOODS FROM U. S. A.

AN American newspaper man, permitted to watch the unloading of a convoy at a British port the other day, said it was like "old home week". He didn't see people from all over the U. S. A., but he saw food and supplies, ranging from peanuts to airplanes, from shipping points that pretty well covered the country.

The dock hands were obviously delighted, and the observer felt a thrill of pride and satisfaction. The first object he saw was a big bomber from Santa Monica, Calif. The man in charge of plane unloading said such ships were in the air three days after they came off the boats.

At the next wharf the reporter, a native of Alabama, was pleased with the sacks of beans from Idaho, the Wisconsin cheese, the California seedless raisins, the Georgia peanuts. A truck passed with boxes of citrus fruits from Florida. A grinning docker sat on a pile of boxes marked "Skinned Hams, Chicago." Behind a pile of foodstuffs stood an ambulance. Its label showed it to be a gift to the British from the people of Milford, Conn. There were machine tools from Indiana, aircraft parts from New Haven, fire extinguishers from Brooklyn and dried apples from San Francisco. Wilmington, Del., was represented by boxes of fiber, and Trenton, N. J., by insulation material.

Officials told the reporter that such supplies were now arriving at British ports at the rate of 850,000 tons a week. Every bit of it is important and makes its special contribution to the ultimate victory.

FAKE ANTI-JUDAISM

THE absurdity of the racial venom with which the Nazis seek to poison the world is seen now in Japan. An anti-Jewish rally was held there not long ago, attended by 1,000 persons, who adopted this resolution:

"The Jewish aspiration to dominate the world is not compatible with the spirit of the Japanese Empire."

The statement runs naturally into the Nazi form. And how little it really means to the Japanese, who have no "Jewish problem" at all, may be seen from the statement of an American correspondent in Tokyo. He says that puzzled citizens go around asking, "What is a Jew?" They have to be told in order to get their borrowed ideology straight. And so do a lot of people in other countries.

Can we produce planes? Well, reports say we're making them now at the rate of 22,000 a year, half of 'em war planes, and half training planes, and we'll be up to 30,000 a year by 1942.

Up to a grand morning, one that even the early news out of Europe could not spoil. Took the dog for a back yard stroll and returned to the prints, finding that the Russians continue their great fight. And it is a great fight. Even the experts believed that the Reds could not last more than two or three weeks against Hitler's mechanized hordes. But they have been doing quite well up to now. It appears that the Russians are a race that will not be defeated and even if Hitler does succeed in crushing Stalin's armies he will not have crushed the Russian people and he will have more trouble left on his hands than he knows how to handle. I have an intense dislike of the Russians as communists, but have the greatest respect for them as patriots. They know how to fight, are not afraid to die.

One day we may have to face the same situation that confronts the Russians and my hope is that we will be ready when the time comes. Too many folk believe that one American fighter can lick a dozen of any other soldiers. That is far from the truth as anyone who served in the last World War or the Spanish American strife can and will tell you. Given equal equipment we are at least as good as any, but one brave man with a rifle and bayonet can not defeat even one coward in a tank or a dive bomber. Day by day we approach the zero hour and we are yet far, far from being prepared for war.

The Darrow farm out in Harrison Township produced an ear of red popcorn that one might easily mistake for a great strawberry, and Pat Yates in his city garden produced seven tomatoes in a cluster. Fairly large ones, too.

What a colorful event the World Series will be if the Dodgers win the National pennant, which it appears they will. Most folk hereabouts are pulling for the Dodgers although few of them think that Lippy's Bums will have much of a chance against the Yanks. ### WINFIELD SHEEHAN POWER

WASHINGTON — Chief questions being asked of the Senate's investigation of Hollywood are: Who is really behind it? Who persuaded a sub-committee to proceed with an unauthorized probe?

The Senators who introduced the resolution, Nye and Clark, admit that they haven't seen the movies which they are criticizing. Yet they are armed with a great mass of data which someone must have dug up for them. The other members of the sub-committee also admit they haven't seen the alleged propaganda pictures. And the Senate as a whole rejected the investigation and declined to appropriate any money for it.

But despite all this, five Senators are going ahead anyway, spending considerable money and even more time to stage a solemn investigation of Hollywood.

Senators are famous for their laziness. They don't go looking for extra work. Obviously someone coked them up.

The answer to this mystery has for some time been in the hands of Wendell Willkie, counsel to the picture industry. But he has no right of cross-examination, and so far this has prevented his making public the solution.

However, he has significant evidence that for several weeks the America First Committee has had a group of research people busy in New York studying the movies and radio programs. They have been working under the direction of John T. Flynn, head of the New York America First Committee. And one research worker hired to listen in on radio programs was Guy Juneman, a henchman of the famous Joe McWilliams, Christian Front leader in New York. These were the people who dug up part of the dope for the Senators.

HOLLYWOOD GHOSTS

But even more important than this New York group has been the little group of ghosts in Los Angeles, who helped inspire the present Senate investigation. Its members include:

G. Allison Phelps—Los Angeles radio commentator and author of the "Tower of Babel", a booklet scathingly critical of Hollywood.

Russell Mack—(real name Mahoney) a former motion picture scenario writer, who visited Germany shortly before the war started.

Winfield Sheehan — husband of the famous opera singer, Jeritza. Sheehan was a producer, for Shirley Temple and Will Rogers.

Sheehan had some lucky breaks—and some unlucky ones. He was lucky enough to be with 20th Century and Fox just at the time Shirley Temple and Will Rogers were in their heyday. But on the other hand, he had no success whatsoever with Alice Faye, who went over big only after Sheehan left 20th Century.

Subsequently for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer he produced "Florian", supposed to be the story of his wife, Jeritza, with the plot laid in a Spanish riding school in Vienna. The film was a flop, and Sheehan

6th Sense of Blind

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

● No one can watch a bat, as I did last night, flying in the twilight of the garden without noticing again its remarkable ability to avoid obstacles. It swoops around at no mean rate of speed.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

headed dead on for the limb of a tree, or the side of the garage, and at the last split second looms up and away. What sense guides it? Not sight, entirely.

A scientist fitted up a room with heavy cross wires, and released a bat into it in total darkness, but the animal flew around and avoided collision with all the wires. Hearing, is the answer of science. Bats emit sound tones in flight of 50,000 vibrations per second—too high for human hearing. These reflect from obstacles in their path and guide them. Like aviators, bats come in on the beam—an auditory beam.

Dallenbach's Tests

We hear of the "sixth sense," the "warning sense" of the blind in avoiding obstacles. What is it? The bat's method gives us a hint, according to Dr. Karl M. Dallenbach, professor of psychology at Cornell, before the General Electric Science Forum, described in "Science and Discovery" for September.

In testing a group of blind people and a group with normal vision who were to be blindfolded, the blind expressed confidence beforehand that they could tell when an obstacle is in the path, the seeing ones were not so sure. In order to have a definite unit of measurement of this ability, they were asked to walk up to a blank wall. The exact distance when they stopped and began to sense its presence could be used as an accurate comparison of sixth sense ability.

The spot where they stopped when they first perceived the presence of the wall was put down as one figure. Then they were told to walk further until they were as close as possible without coming into contact with the wall. The first distance divided by the second gave the ratio used as a standard.

Hearing Guided Them

At first the ones with normal vision would stop at twenty feet from the wall, giving a very low ratio, but they soon learned and acquired as good a ratio as the blind subjects.

Some of them thought they detected the wall by pressure sensations in the skin of the face and hands. These were eliminated by a veil of heavy felt to cover the face without coming into contact with it. Wearing this, the groups perceived the wall as accurately as before.

Then hearing was tested by plugging up the ears, leaving the face uncovered with the exception of the blindfolds. This destroyed their sixth sense entirely. In 400 trials both blind and those with normal vision ran into the wall every time when the ears were stopped.

So the blind's sixth sense turns out to be hearing. "The subjects were able to avoid the wall when their hearing was intact," says Dr. Dallenbach, "but unable to avoid it when the hearing was impaired."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

G. G. M.—I can't drink our water so I drink pop instead. Is too much pop harmful and is it fattening? Is it harmful for a boy 4 years old to have any coffee every morning? I can't get him away from it.

Answer—Pop does no special harm. All pop contains sugar and to that extent is fattening. In my opinion, four years is too young for children to be drinking coffee.

A Ride in a Paper Boat

By MARIE BLIZARD
WRITTEN FOR AND RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION.

SYNOPSIS

Leaving New York for Miami to marry again, KALLIE SINGLETON, a fashion model, reminisces about the time, six years before, when she was only 21 years old and had just met ERIC ADAMS, a young would-be actor. SHEILA SHERMAN, a chorus girl and friend of Eric's, appeared on the scene.

YESTERDAY, Toby Fenell, a friend of Eric's, arrives shortly before the wedding.

CHAPTER TEN

YES, TOBY was smiling. It was a pathetic sort of little smile, but it was a smile. Nothing terrible had happened to Mummie or Dad, or any of the other unnamed things she'd thought in that dreadful moment.

Hallie suddenly realized that she was standing in her slip and stocking feet, grasping Toby's arm. She snatched at one of the bath scarfs that was always to be found amid the litter of books and paints and odds and ends in Sue's studio and suddenly remembering, "What is it, Toby?"

"Someone to give the bride away."

"But, Toby, not you?" Toby said, "Come in, Doctor!" Dr. Singleton put his head around the door and Hallie, with a little cry, flew to him, hugging him until he cried for help.

"Oh, Daddy! Daddy! This is the omen of good luck I needed so badly. Did Mummie . . . ?"

Your mother sailed for Bermuda this morning. I came down to put her on the boat. And this young man . . . He looked over her shoulder to where Toby was standing, "happened to come along, since Louise motored down with us . . ."

"Louise! Louise is here?" Hallie cried, feeling that her cup of happiness was brimming over. "Oh, Daddy, this is going to be the most wonderful wedding ever. Only now it's too late to have Louise and Toby stand up with us, but it won't matter."

Toby's mouth was a straight, unsmiling line when she looked at it, and then at the clock. "Sue, take care of everybody. I may be able to receive in a slip, but I can't get married in it."

She was married, not in the creamy satin and tulle which was to be in its box for six years, but in a frock of beige with a cluster of brown orchids at her shoulder. She had chosen her own ring, a simple band of gold. And when Eric slipped it proudly over her finger, she thought no wedding could have meant more to her than that one did.

There was Eric, tall and proud and handsome at her side. And a step behind him, her dear Daddy, loving her, standing by her, the weight of his love already bowing his shoulders.

Dr. Singleton would not join them for the wedding breakfast; he had to get back to his work in Worburn, but he took them aside for a moment. "If there's anything

For an instant she remembered Sheila Sherman's clothes and wondered with horror if Eric expected her to dress like that. She said tersely, "I have plenty of clothes, but you do need some, Eric." She handed Win's check back across the table.

Eric nodded at it, and came around and kissed her. "Sweet! With so little experience, how did you learn to be such a perfect wife? Did your mother teach you?"

She laughed at his nonsense. Her mother had taught her manners, and so that afternoon, suspecting that Eric would not think of it, she sat down to write Winthrop Adams to thank him for his wedding gift.

When Eric found her at the desk, he leaned over her, muzzling the soft hair at the back of her neck with his nose. "What lute are you making now?"

"Not a lute. I'm writing Win. to thank him." Calmly Eric reached over and picked up the letter. He tore it into shreds and dropped it into the wastebasket. "Waste of time," he said.

"Eric! You might need your brother sometime." Eric grinned. "With your family in back of us? . . . I'll drop a line to Win myself."

Monday Club Announces Conference Delegates

Meeting Will Be Held Two Days, Sept. 30-Oct. 1

A poem, "The Footpath to Peace", by Henry Van Dyke was read by Mrs. Tom Renick, the new president, at the Monday session of The Monday Club was opened in the Library Trustees' room, Memorial Hall.

Delegates to the Southeast District Conference of the Ohio Federated Women's Clubs were elected during the business hour. Mrs. John H. Dunlap Sr. and Mrs. Sterling Lamb were named delegates, and Mrs. Melvin Kiger and Mrs. James I. Smith Jr. alternates to the conference, which will be September 30 and October 1 in the First Presbyterian Church of Chillicothe. The New Century and the Century Clubs will be hosts.

The program of the conference was read, announcing the opening meeting for 9:30 a. m. Tuesday; the program, "Tell Me Please" at 10:30 a. m.; the National Defense Luncheon at noon and Chillicothe Night at 6 p. m. are the outstanding features of the day.

Resolutions in respect of the death of Miss Elizabeth Ruggles were read by Mrs. Tom Brown, chairman of the resolution committee, and incorporated in the minutes of the organization.

Miss Margaret Rooney, chairman of the student aid committee, reported concerning the work of her department.

The roll call preceded the program which was in charge of Mrs. D. Phillips, chairman of the Home Life department in the club study of Hand-Wrought Ancestors, the year theme.

Mrs. Clark Will read entries from "The Diary of Mistress Hope-Still-Wrestling" that was written by a young woman at infrequent intervals during the first year of her married life.

Mrs. Will said, "Of her we gather that she is young, that she has come a comparatively great distance from her girlhood home, that she has married into a well-to-do family, that her mother-in-law is not completely in rapport with the newcomer, that she loves her husband and reveres her Maker. Of her we never learn the year she was wed, the name of the family into which she married, nor of the community into which she moved. We judge the time is before 1776, and the geographic position in New England."

Mrs. Clarridge Hostess Garden flowers made the rooms of the home attractive when Mrs. Joseph Clarridge, North Court Street, entertained her contract bridge club and a few additional guests, Monday. The guests included Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. John Joy, Mrs. R. L. Bremner, Mrs. Pearl Page and Miss Emily D. Yates.

When Mrs. Clarridge served a salad course after the games, two white rose buds in a small vase centered each table.

Mrs. Curtin will entertain the club in two weeks.

One thing is certain. Charlie's spooning at the microphone won't work with Virginia. She's just young enough to be embarrassed and slap his wooden face if he starts any romantic palaver.

It's more likely that Charlie will enlist Virginia's aid in an all-out effort to get even with Lou Costello who doesn't show the proper respect for Charlie. Best of all, it has been suggested, would be for Bergen and Virginia to gang up on Charlie and put the carrot-topped rascal in his place for once.

AMECHE'S GUESTS
Priscilla Lane of the movies, Author James Hilton and Gene Krupa, king of hidebatters, will compose the guest panel of the Music Hall for the airing of Thursday, at 8:00 p. m.

Hilton, who is best known probably for his novels "Lost Horizon" and "Goodbye Mr. Chips," has of late been collaborating on movie scripts, or, of which is an adaptation of his "Knight Without Armor." Priscilla Lane, who is the average college boy's idea of all that a sweetheart should be, has gained popularity from appearances in many entertaining films. Krupa starts thousands of feet dancing to his infectious drum rhythms.

The regulars of the Hall—Don Ameche, master-of-ceremonies; comedian Jerry Lester, Ken Carpenter, the Music Makers, Connie Boswell and John Scott Trotter and the boys of the band—will spread the welcome mat for the visitors.

MCCARTHY'S GUEST
Almost anything may happen when diminutive pig-tailed tomboy Virginia Weidler of the films drops in on the Charlie McCarthy show Sunday, at 8 p. m. to keep a date with Bergen's silk-topped youngster Charlie McCarthy.

One thing is certain. Charlie's spooning at the microphone won't work with Virginia. She's just young enough to be embarrassed and slap his wooden face if he starts any romantic palaver.

It's more likely that Charlie will enlist Virginia's aid in an all-out effort to get even with Lou Costello who doesn't show the proper respect for Charlie. Best of all, it has been suggested, would be for Bergen and Virginia to gang up on Charlie and put the carrot-topped rascal in his place for once.

RADIO BRIEFS
Hal Fimberg, Stan Davis and Marvin Fisher will land the writing assignment on the Al Pearce program when it returns to the air on October third.

Joan Blaine, star of "Valiant Lady" is mulling a picture offer which may make her a Hollywood-New York commuter.

Jim and Marion Jordan, stars of Fibber McGee and Molly, returned to their Encino home this week to begin immediate preparations for the first program of the season which kicks off on September 30th.

Felix Mills, maestro on "Hollywood Premiere," lands the same assignment on Silver Theatre when the latter program returns to the air on October 5th.

DEFENSE SPEAKER
Rear Admiral William H. P. Blandy, Chief of the Bureau of Ordnance, U. S. Navy, will be a guest speaker on the "Defense for America" program Saturday, at 8:00 p. m. The program, falling on the day that the U. S. Maritime Commission has resigned as "Liberty Fleet Day," will be carried from 6 to 6:30 p. m. by more than 90 stations.

It will report on the threefold effort of industry and the navy to give Uncle Sam superiority of the seas.

The story of construction naval ships will be told by Graham McNamee from the deck of the battleship Massachusetts, newest of Uncle Sam's "battle-wagons" and the sixth naval craft to bear the name. The ship, launched Tuesday, was built at Quincy, Mass.

Wife Preservers
If there is illness in the home and need for keeping sickroom silverware and dishes separated from those of the rest of the family, sterilize the pieces—even dishes—in the French fryer. Pieces can be put in this wire basket and lowered into a kettle of boiling water. Let boil for at least five minutes. Drain in basket and let dry without handling. They are then ready to be placed on the tray until the next meal.

On December 18, 1919, he married and twenty Mr. William Samuel Brinker was united in holy wedlock with Miss Bernice Mossbarger. This union was blessed with two children, Joan and John Milton. It is very fitting that this service should be held here for this man who was a resident of this city for his entire lifetime.

He is not dead, but only lieth sleeping. In the sweet breast of his Master's breast, And far away from sorrow, toil, and weeping.

He is not dead, but only taking rest. O glorious end of life's short day O blessed course so well and nobly run! O home of truth and everlasting gladness, O crown unfading! And so early won!

Though tears will fall we bless Thee, O our Father, For the dear one forever with the blest, And wait the Easter dawn when Thou shalt gather Thine own, long parted, to their endless rest.

Memorial Resolutions

Whereas: The Monday Club has lost one of its founders in the death of Miss Elizabeth Ruggles, therefore be it

Resolved: That we deplore the loss of this charter member, who gave of herself to make sound the foundation of our Club; but we rejoice in the fact that she took a friendly interest in our advancement for nearly fifty-three years.

Her desire to help and uplift others was a beautiful example of endeavoring to fulfill one of the objects for which the Monday Club was organized.

Resolved: As members of the Monday Club we transmit a copy of these resolutions to the family and that a copy be entered upon the records of the Club.

Anne W. Brown, Mary M. Jones, Nell M. Weldon.

IN MEMORY

He is not dead, but only lieth sleeping
In the sweet refuge of his Master's breast,
And far away from sorrow, toil,

O glorious end of life's short day
of sadness,
O blessed converse so well and nobly run!
O home of true and everlasting gladness,
O crown unfading! And so early won!

Though tears will fall we bless Thee, O our Father,
For dear one forever with the
blest,
And wait the Easter dawn when Thou shalt gather Thine own, long parted, to their endless rest.

Memorial Resolutions

Whereas: The Monday Club has lost one of its founders in the death of Miss Elizabeth Ruggles,
therefore be it
Resolved: That we deplore the loss of this charter member, who gave of herself to make sound the foundation of our Club; but we rejoice in the fact that she took a friendly interest in our advancement for nearly fifty-three years.

Her desire to help and uplift others was a beautiful example of endeavoring to fulfill one of the objects for which the Monday Club was organized.

Resolved: As members of the Monday Club we transmit a copy of these resolutions to the family and that a copy be entered upon the records of the Club.

Red Birds Need Single Edge Over Louisville

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 23.—The Columbus Red Birds today needed but one more victory in the final American Association playoff round to gain the right to meet the winner of the International League's playoffs in the Little World Series.

The Birds, suddenly coming to life in the seventh and eighth innings of last night's game, defeated the Louisville Colonels, 9 to 5. The series now stands at three victories for Columbus and one for Louisville. Red Bird Manager Burt Shotton was to send big Johnny Grodzicki, leading league hurler of the regular season, against rookie Joe Wood Jr., of the Colonels.

SHEA GETS CALL FOR LEFT HALF ON TIGER TEAM

Tom Shea, well-proportioned sophomore griddle who has been alternating between fullback and tackle this season, was put into the left halfback spot on Coach Roy Black's varsity Monday evening in an effort to fill the vacancy left by the shoulder injury to Bob Kline suffered in last week's season opener.

Shea was running with Geib, Moorehead and Anderson in the first string and, barring anything unforeseen, will likely be there when the whistle blows putting the Tigers and Hillsboro's Indians together next Friday night on the Highland County school's gridiron. The youngster is fast and big, and above all, willing. Mastery of his assignments is his big job, with aid of his teammates, he made a good start in Monday's workout.

Coaches Black and Tom Armstrong put the boys through a long drill Monday, working out some of the faults that appeared in the West Jefferson game. Because the field is so hard from lack of rain it is possible that very little scrimmaging will be done this week, the coaches being willing to work out blocking assignments and to drill on a pass offense which may get plenty of use against the heavier Indians.

Tiger followers have hopes that the speed of the Tiger forward wall may overcome the distinct weight advantage the Indians are reported to have. If the Red and Black youngsters can get the charge on the Indians the highly-touted offensive built around Gerald Davis may be stopped before it develops.

All Hillsboro's offense is centered around the new T-formation that is sweeping the country since the Stanford Indians and Chicago Bears knocked off a couple of championships with it last year.

INDIANA SOPHOMORE ACE TO BE READY TO PLAY

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Sept. 23.—There was good news for Indiana's rooters today in the announcement Bill Hillenbrand, sophomore backfield star, is expected to be fit for the Hoosiers' opening game against Detroit Saturday. Hillenbrand incurred a foot injury last week, and it was feared he might miss Saturday's tilt.

DODGERS REST; CARDINALS PLAY PIRATES TWICE

Brooklyn Moves Game And Half Ahead And Has Four Remaining

ST. LOUIS FACES SIX

Curt Davis Blanks Phils, Brownies Halt Feller And Indians

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Going into Pittsburgh right behind the recently departed Brooklyn Dodgers, the St. Louis Cardinals today opened against the Pirates in a four-game series that probably will mark the last stand of the gallant pennant contenders from the west. Championship hopes are dwindling with the schedule. Their hope now is to prolong it and perhaps get an assist from a miracle.

The Dodgers idled today and next will open against the Braves at Boston as a follow up to their 5 to 0 victory behind Curt Davis at Philadelphia yesterday, increasing the pace-setters' lead to 1 1/2 games over the Cards who had no off-day.

Thus as the Cards went into today's double header against Frankie Frisch's Buccaneers at Pittsburgh, the facts and figures that cheered the Dodgers were these:

Even Break Needed

Breaking that down still further, if the Dodgers only break even in their four remaining games, the Cardinals would have to win five of their six to win the pennant by a nose.

But this brings everything down to the important fact that the Cards must meet the Pirates in two today, in single games Wednesday and Thursday, rest Friday, then finish against the Cubs at Chicago in single contests Saturday and Sunday.

That is a much more difficult finish than the one which all observers have agreed all along would bring the Dodgers home in front after they had managed to hold their own in the west. The Dodgers have only single games at Boston tomorrow and Thursday, and off-day Friday and single games against the Phillies at Brooklyn Saturday and Sunday.

Yesterday's game between the Dodgers and Phils probably was the clincher, all things being considered. This was the one that would determine whether the Dodgers would move 1 1/2 games in front—as they did—or drop back to a mere half game.

Davis took care of the situation handsily with a six-hitter for his 13th victory and his fifth shutout of the year.

The New York Giants made their last appearance on their home field by splitting a double bill with the Boston Braves. The Giants won the first, 5 to 3, and dropped the nightcap, 2 to 1.

Feller Deafened

The St. Louis Browns took the American League feature by handing Bob Feller his 13th defeat against 24 victories, 5 to 0. Rapid Robert lasted only until the eighth. John Niggeling hurried the shutout.

In the only other game of the day, the Detroit Tigers moved up into a fourth place tie with the Indians by defeating the Chicago White Sox, 11 to 0. Al Benton started for the Tigers and was credited with the victory.

CUBS TO LOSE GORNICKI FOLLOWING LANDIS RULE

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—A ruling by Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis today cost the Chicago Cubs the services of Pitcher Henry Gornicki, purchased recently from the St. Louis Cardinals.

Landis ordered Gornicki returned to the Cardinals on the ground the Cubs paid in excess of the $7,500 waiver price for him, whereas league rules provide that from June 15 to the end of the season no player may be transferred until all clubs have had a chance to buy him at the waiver price.

TWO BISHOPS STARRING

DELAWARE, Sept. 23.—Fullback Bob Brentlinger, of Lima, and Ralph Copp, of Dayton, today were the talk of the Ohio Wesleyan University campus. The backfield pair showed fine line plunging in yesterday's football practice, which was featured by plays involving double lateral passes and lateral-forward combinations.

ACCIDENTS ON DISTRICT ROADS TAKING HIGH LIFE, PROPERTY TOLL

SURVEY SHOWS SCIOTO TRAIL A S DANGEROUS

Sixty-Seven Collisions So Far In 1941 Disclosed By Sheriff's Chart

SIX FATALITIES LISTED Stoutsville Pike's Total Highest Among Rural Highways

Pickaway County traffic accidents have taken a surprisingly large toll in number killed and injured since January 1. Reports at the sheriff's office, showing accidents in the county since the first of the year, list 67 auto collisions. Those 67 accidents have brought fatal injuries to six persons and injuries to 71 others. Most dangerous of all the highways in the county is Route 23 north of Circleville, 27 accidents having happened between Circleville and the Franklin County line on Route 23 since January 1. Seven accidents were reported on Route 23 south of Circleville, making a total of 34 accidents on Route 23. Route 22 west of Circleville is more dangerous to travel than Route 22 east of the city. Ten auto accidents happened on Route 22 west while only two major accidents were reported on that highway east of the city. Most of those accidents west of the city happened at or near the intersections of 56 or 104.

Other routes which showed several bad accidents was 56 east, with the 159 intersection contributing liberally to the list of injured. The 56-159 intersection was the scene of one traffic fatality this year, several other auto collisions and numerous arrests by the state highway patrolmen for failing to observe the stop signs there. Most traffic accidents happened in August, according to the reports, fourteen collisions bringing injuries to 14 persons. July was next with 11 accidents and fourteen injured, and February was third with ten persons being injured in nine accidents.

January had only two accidents in the county, March five, April five, May seven and June six. September has had eight accidents so far bringing injuries to eight persons.

More of the accidents happen during the afternoon than at night, the check showing that of the total of 67, only 18 of them happened between 8 a. m. and 3 a. m. Saturdays and Sundays are worse for accidents than are the week days with Saturday and Sunday afternoons and evenings being the most dangerous time of day to travel. A few scattered accidents have been reported on roads other than state highways, with the Circleville-Stoutsville road having the most accidents among the county routes.

BERLIN CLAIMS NAZI ZONE OF WAR VIOLATED

Since British estimates last week also put Russian losses at three million, that would make the total casualties and prisoners in the Russian fight number six million.

Moscow told of new Red army successes on the Central Front and continued fighting in all zones. The official Moscow radio said Russian counter-attacks have thrown back the German besiegers of Odessa for "several miles." The radio asserted also that Romania has lost half its army since King Michael's realm entered the war. The Romanian army is believed to exceed 400,000 men.

An eye-witness account from the Finnish front facing Leningrad, said the Russians apparently are blowing up war-important facilities in Leningrad in preparation for the fall of the Soviets' second city.

Much of Leningrad is aflame, said the witness, as a result of heavy German and Finnish shell fire and aerial bombardments.

Guns of Kronstadt, the great Russian naval base in the gulf of Finland, have been silenced, the witness said.

British planes today attacked Boulogne on the French coast.

Claims Denied

London admitted an enemy naval attack on Gibraltar, and confirmed that one "hulk" was sunk, but denied Italian claims that three ships were destroyed.

Warfare raged with heightened fury between Germany and Russia.

Berlin credited Luftwaffe and coast artillery bombardments with knocking 18 Soviet warships out of action in the last 48 hours and claimed the Soviet Baltic and Black Sea fleets are crumbling.

German military authorities declared the Nazi siege rings are tightening around Leningrad and Odessa and that 30 Russian divisions—about 450,000 troops—have been wiped out in the war's bloodiest battle of annihilation, nearing completion east of Nazi-occupied Kiev.

Moscow's radio claimed the "extermination" of an enemy division in eight days and nights of ferocious fighting on the Southern Front and the high command announced destruction of 100 German planes in a single day.

On the Central Front, it was stated, annihilation of nearly six German infantry battalions was accomplished in a battle that lasted five days.

More Reprisal Deaths Vichy reported the shooting of three more Frenchmen in reprisal for anti-German outbreaks in occupied France and a German news agency dispatch from Zagreb said 59 Jews and Communists had been sentenced to death and executed there. From Cairo, Kenneth Downs, ace International News Service correspondent, reported axis forces are preparing to conquer the middle east as soon as winter weather forces them to stabilize the Russian Front.

LEAP FROM HOTEL FATAL TO TELEGRAPH OPERATOR

CINCINNATI, Sept. 23—Lloyd O'Brien Harris, 35-year-old telegraph operator, leaped to his death from the fifth floor of a downtown Cincinnati hotel today after slashing both of his wrists and throat with a razor blade, police reported.

A card found on the body gave Harris' address as Memphis, Tenn. Police said they found a telegram, believed from the victim's wife, which was dated Monday and read "So sorry, just paid advance rent apartment. Flat broke. Love, Florence."

Harris had been employed in the office of the American Racing Record as an extra operator. He had been laid off Saturday.

SOVIET communiques claim that the panzer forces of Col. Gen. Russians say Guderian's troops suffered 30,000 casualties and lost 500 tanks, 70 armored cars, 1,525 trucks and 195 planes in a fierce tank battle.

Repeal of the neutrality act would permit arming of American merchant ships and allow them to carry lend-lease goods to England. As battle lines began forming for a fight over changing of the neutrality law, Secretary of State Hull indicated that he favors revision of the act.

Hull said that he has been doubtful of the wisdom of the act since 1935 and that his attitude remains unchanged. He said that when the act was first under discussion both he and President Roosevelt felt that it was as liable to get this country into war as to keep it out.

Although congressional spokesmen have advocated immediate action on repeal, Hull refrained from disclosing whether any immediate move will be made by the administration in that direction.

BUCK FRESHMEN REPORT TO REES SEPTEMBER 30

COLUMBUS, Sept. 23—A large group of potential Ohio State University football players is expected to report to Freshman Coach Trever Rees when the first freshman squad meeting is held September 30. Actual practice will begin the following day.

Rees, who will be assisted by Fritz Helsler and perhaps others if the squad is large enough, will conduct the first-year squad on the same basis that Coach Paul Brown handles the varsity. After a brief period of fundamentals, an "A" squad of about 35 or 40 men will be selected and this group will be drilled to the Brown style of football, so that when the players move up to the varsity next season they will be able to step into the scheme of things with a minimum of trouble.

However, Coach Rees emphasized that once this "A" group is chosen, there will be nothing permanent or guaranteed about it. Other freshmen who show ability will be promoted to the top squad, and boys who display lack of interest will be dropped.

SURVEY SHOWS SCIOTO TRAIL AS DANGEROUS

Sixty-Seven Collisions, So Far In 1941 Disclosed By Sheriff's Chart

SIX FATALITIES LISTED

Stoutsville Pike's Total Highest Among Rural Highways

Pickaway County traffic accidents have taken a surprisingly large toll in number killed and injured since January 1.

Reports at the sheriff's office, showing accidents in the county since the first of the year, list 67 auto collisions. Those 67 accidents have brought fatal injuries to six persons and injuries to 71 others.

Most dangerous of all the highways in the county is Route 23 north of Circleville, 27 accidents having happened between Circleville and the Franklin County line on Route 23 since January 1. Seven accidents were reported on Route 23 south of Circleville, making a total of 34 accidents on Route 23.

Route 22 west of Circleville is more dangerous to travel than Route 22 east of the city. Ten auto accidents happened on Route 22 west while only two major accidents were reported on that highway east of the city. Most of those accidents west of the city happened at or near the intersections of 56 or 104.

56-159 Dangerous

Other routes which showed several bad accidents was 56 east, with the 159 intersection contributing liberally to the list of injured. The 56-159 intersection was the scene of one traffic fatality this year, several other auto collisions and numerous arrests by the state highway patrolmen for failing to observe the stop signs there. Most traffic accidents happened in August, according to the reports, fourteen collisions bringing injuries to 14 persons. July was next with 11 accidents and fourteen injured, and February was third with ten persons being injured in nine accidents.

January had only two accidents in the county, March five, April five, May seven and June six. September has had eight accidents so far bringing injuries to eight persons.

More of the accidents happen during the afternoon than at night, the check showing that of the total of 67, only 18 of them happened between 8 a. m. and 3 a. m. Saturdays and Sundays are worse for accidents than are the week days with Saturday and Sunday afternoons and evenings being the most dangerous time of day to travel.

A few scattered accidents have been reported on roads other than state highways, with the Circleville-Stoutsville road having the most accidents among the county routes.
